THIS HAIR WASH has been prepared by us for the last 20 years. Its sale is steadily increasing in India, the Straits and Japan. It possesses all the qualities of a Hair Oil or Pomade without their stickiness. It induces a healthy action of the scalp and nourishes the Hair. Dandruff never appears, whilst it is in use. It contains none but, the best ingredients, and the greatest care is taken in the compounding. When the Hair falls off after fever or any other sickness, this Wash will surely prove of the greatest value.

From its great nourishing power on the follicles it may in time cause Hair to return to its natural color; it, however, does not contain a particle of any dyeing ingredient. Using it constantly will most certainly prevent the Hair falling. It is cleanly in use, the smallest quantity sufficing. It has no sediment, and therefore requires no shaking. J. LLEWELLYN & Co., Shanahai.

No Pomade required.

be identified with Union Church Dr. Chalmers thanked the congregation in suitable terms, saying that his duty had been a pleasant one, and that he was glad the prospect had brightened. Thanks were also voted to Mr Wm. Legge, to the friends of the Church who had liberally contributed, to Mr Noble for his services in connection with the music, and to the Committee of Management. It was explained that, although the accounts did not show quite so well this year as might have been expected, this was partly accounted for by the large item for repairs lately carried out on the Church. The new candidate for the pastorate (Rev. Mr Colville) is, we learn, ex-

THE Ball given by the Stewards of the Race Fund formed a successful finish to the Bace Service at 5 P.M. Holy Communion after | Meeting of 1881. Though probably not so numerously attended as we have frequently seen this public gathering, it was a spirited and brilliant assembly. The decorations. were appropriate, and although they made no ambitious pretensions to an elaborate effect, they were most pleasing and exceed-Litany, Ante-Communion, and Sermon, at ingly pretty. Flowers, leaves and plants 11 AM. Bible Class, at 3 P.M. Preaching, formed the principal material; and their arrangement at the entrance hall, on the grand staircase, and on the landing, reflected infinite credit on those concerned. As usual, the colours of the caps and jackets neatly arranged on the anding of the grand staircase; and the effect was of the most appropriate and pleasing kind. The lucky horse-shoe was not forgotten over the lintels; and the graceful line of evergreens, which formed the limit of the decorations in the Ball and Supper Rooms, was carried round the walls and doorways. In the Supper Room were displayed a number of the Cups that had been won at the recent meeting. Among the guests present were H.E. the Governor and Lady Hennessy, Lady Smale, and a large number of Naval and Military officers. including representatives from the American. French, and German vessels now in harbour. Dancing was kept up until a late hour this morning, the music having been provided by the Band of the 27th Inniskillings, under the direction of Band-Ser-

REPRODUCING a condensed report (which we have already published) of the speech of the City Chamberlain (Mr B. Scott) at a meeting held at the Wesleyan Centenary Hall, ..

Bishopsgate Street, the Shanghai Mercury

Since Sir John Smale has undertaken to change, by means of sentences of pena servitude, -the morals of the Chinese and the predominant features of their social economy, the cry of "slavery" has reached the philanthropists of London, and at the Wesleyan Centenary, the British Government has been denounced for the sins of the Chinese. It is not even enough to put the opium curse rightly or wrongly on the back place on Monday evening. No fresh invita- of the British Government; the Exeter Hall and Bishopegate craters have now got hold of a more horrible tale, and they blame their own country for the Chinese system of selling children —a system which had gone on for ages before the British ever landed in China, and will likely "continus to the end of the world " it just shows how much these people know of what they are talking about when the following paragraph from a home paper shows that the Diry Chamberlain spoke of Hongtons where who is known to have held it to be an admirable piece of work and to have derived great assistance from it. But the document published by L'Egypte, (at the instigation, to doubt, or by the allowance, of Riaz Pacha) is not the budget sent by Colonel Gordon to Sir Rivers Wilson, but merely a rough draft of that budget. The criticism of L'Egipte therefore falls entirely to the ground, and only serves to show the animosity felt by the Government of Egypt to the man who has done more, and done it more disinterestedly, for Egypt than any one of the present Egyptian Ministers ever dreamt of.

Ir will be remembered that in 1874 foreigner named Fawcett, in the Chinese Customs Service, was supposed, during a struggle with some natives at the Shantung Promontory, where he was engaged build ing a light house, to have shot and killed a native. He was taken to Chefoo and tried before the British Consul, but was acquitted. He was then discharged from the Customs and went to Japan, where he was arrested on a warrant issued by Sir Edmund Hornby. He was brought back to this country and taken to Chefoo for trial before Sir Edmund and a jury, on a charge of manslaughter, but he was acquitted. The case of Regina v. Page which is now being tried at Canton presents somewhat similar features, -Shanghai Courier.

PRISONER ACQUITTED. Mr J. J. Francis and Mr P. R. Smith appeared for the prosecution. Mr T. C. Hayllar, Q.C., Mr E. L. O'Malley, and Mr E. Mackean, instructed by Messra Brereton and Wotton, appeared for the defence. She Tsai Yu. Expectant Taotai, was present on behalf of His Excellency the Viceroy, to watch the case. Mr Francis now put in affidavits by Mr. Hewlett, the Consul, and Mr Jordan, Consular Assistant, to the effect that application had been made to the Viceroy and Hoppo respectively for the production of the statement signed by the prisoner.

The Clerk of the Court then inquired any one was in attendance with the docu-

No one answered. Mr Francis then called Mr McKean and proposed to get from him parole evidence of the prisoner's statement.

After argument on this point his Lordship decided it as follows :-- The production From precedent to precedent have the of the document in this case is resisted upon the ground that it is the property of another State, which, for its own reasons, that State will not produce. The question s whether this Court, in the absence of production, can admit secondary evidence of the contents of the paper so refused be produced, and whether the witness compellable to give such secondary evidence. Canton.

25th February. I now venture, for the first time, to allude to the case in the British Court that has been held here during more than a week, under the singularly dignified presidency of Chief Justice French; who, notwithstanding severe and continuous illness, has struggled against the suddenly relaxing change in the atmosphere, in the performance of what must be considered an extraordinary duty, down to the conclusion of the trial this evening. There are founders of States, and there are makers of Laws Jurists and Legislators of Britain unbuildcedent possessed by England. This Court, therefore, has had the initiative in the formation, or rather, the engrafting of new law in a case whose international importance concerns not only England and China. but all the Western Nations and Japan. How difficult a process this engrafting is may be perceived by allusion to merely one point that was presented to-day in illustration of the anomalous position of Foreigners serving the Government of China and yet subject to the laws of their own country. as is the position of the defendant in this action : Namely, that he, Page, went out on the duty of seizing opium smugglers, in a boataccompanied by two Chinese, from which boat shots were fired that may have killed one of the Chinese smugglers; whose body was subsequently brought to the Custom House jetty by his friends: But regarding whose death the Chinese Authorities signified their approval of the action of Page and his companions or coadjutors, as being in the pursuance of their official duty; and, consequently, refused to furnish written or oral information to aid in the prosecution of Page in the British Court. It did not appear from the evidence which of the three persons in the boat had fired the shot that killed the Chinese, if indeed it was fired from that boat; but I need not onter into the details of the occurrences here, as my present purpose is merely to point t the anomaly which, as his Lordship said to-day, "is incidental to the Service the four-inch live oak planking of the vessel and were directed directly at the people in British subjects employed by the Government of China in suppression of smugsword, which was over two inches in amount to murder, but if the firing were gling." That is to say, that, (being held be tried for murder of a Chinese smugthe water penetrated into the ship. The be reduced to manslaughter. CHINA AND JAPAN. (N. C. Daily News, Feb. 19.) That most important negotiations are at the present time pending between the Goverments of China and Japan is beyond all reasonable doubt. The hurried departure of the Japanese Minister. His Excellency Shishido, from Peking, and the hardships he might be expected to incur by an overland journey to Shanghai, are sufficient to indicate that momentous events. are likely soon to be brought to an issue between the two countries; but we are assured on the best authority that he left the Chinese officials in the capital on the most friendly terms. There is no truth in the report that he has broken off negotiation with them, or that he has been recalled by his Government. He has come to Shaughai to meet Mr Miamoto, the First Secretary of the Foreign Department, who arrived here by the Kongo Kan, and they are to romain here awaiting further instructions from their Government. The rapid development of Japanese influence in Corea the Tokio Government has already obtained of the Loochoos, and an amicable adjustment of the complications that exist between the two nations will, we think, now be found far more difficult to arrange than when China was threatened with a breach of peaceful relations with Russin. At tho same time, it has long been evident that ciple that to be forewarned is to be forearmed. Shipments of war material have been arriving in Japan from Europe and America for several months past, while, since the Chinese New Year, scarcely a vessel has arrived in Shanghai from Europe, either steamer or sailing ship, that has not brought large consignments of munitions of war for the Chinese Government. At the present time, the steamer Larch, from Antwerp, and the British barque Dartmonth, from London, both of which vessels arrived on the 16th inst., are discharging the former heavy guns and rifles, and the latter gunpowder, gun-cotton and cartridges, while no inconsiderable portions of the cargoes of the Thurland Castle, Kenmure Castle and Proportis were composed of similar articles. The Dartmouth alone, it is said, has brought something like 400,000 pounds of powder and about 80 tops of gun-cotton.

He divided the Island into six districts called sheadings, every sheading having its coroner, who acted as sheriff, and was entrusted with the peace of his district. The the year 1417 Sir John Stanley, the then "King and Lord of Man," paid a visit to the Island. He sottled the order of the Tynwald Assembly. In committee of the House of Keys, on November 5, an amendment was moved by Mr Richard Sherwood to omit the word "male" for the purpose of extending the franchise to womon who nossessed the required qualification. This amendment was carried by 16 votes to 3, being a majority of more than five to one of those present and voting, and a vote of two-thirds of the whole number of the House of Keys. Thus the House of Keys, probably-the most ancient popular legislative assembly in the world, has been true to its tradition of resisting encroachments on liberty, by taking measures to secure the exercise of political rights by women as well as by men, and by asserting the prin-

Excuses are never wanting for repeating the 'One cannot walk upon one leg." says the Swede. The Trinity is sacred, says the Russian for his third glass; and Every room has four corners, for his fourth. Probably the origin of the 'zakouska' may be found in the fact that hungry guests, arriving some little time before the dinner-hour, would be offered a snack in the meanwhile and a glass of vodka after their journey in the cold. Where things are done on a large scale, the 'zakonska' reaches colossal proportions. I have seen as many as thirty-seven plates on the table.
